

Top Artists by Sales

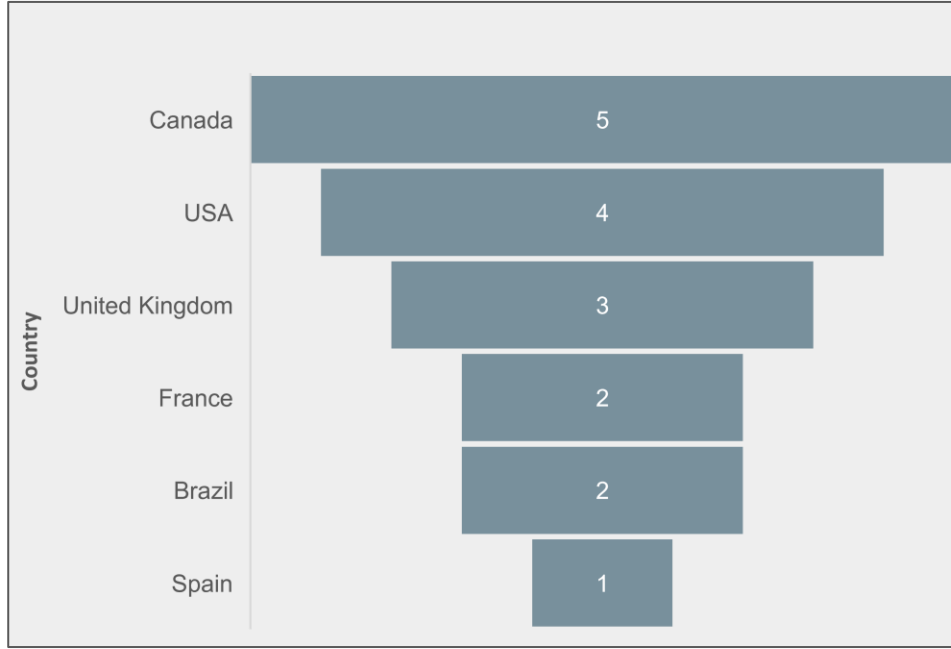

As depicted in the image, Iron Maiden reigns supreme as the top artist in the database, boasting sales of approximately $140. U2 follows, though not as closely, with sales of around $110. Metallica, Led Zeppelin, and Lost maintain a solid presence, each averaging approximately $90 in sales. The remaining artists follow with an average sales figure of about $50.

Top selling Genres

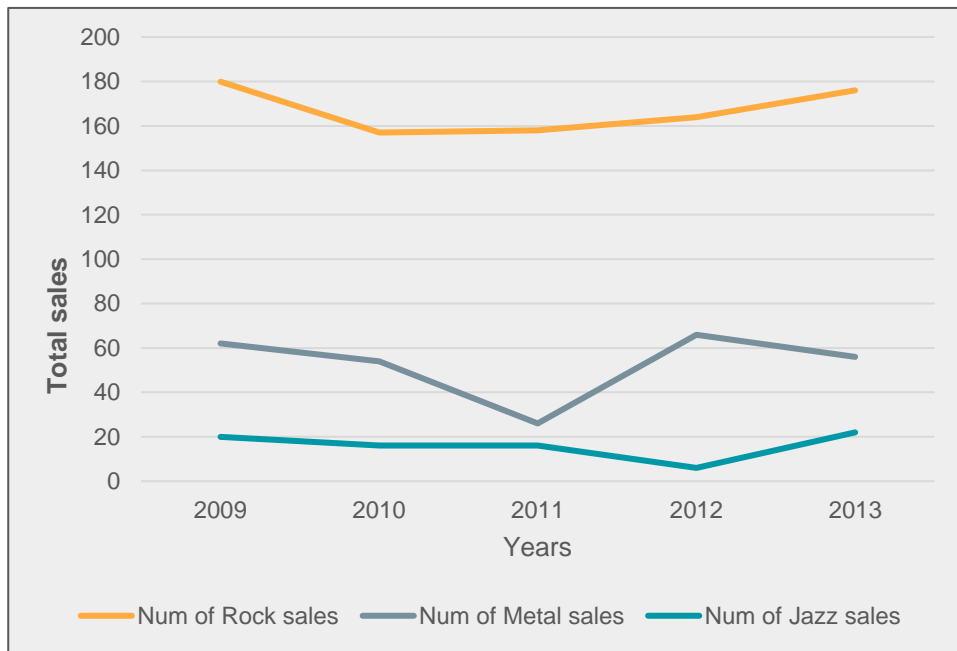

Rock dominates as the highest-grossing genre in the database, raking in approximately $850 in sales. Latin follows, though not closely, with sales totalling around $400. Metal and Alternative & Punk genres also make a solid showing with sales of around $250. The remaining genres have an average sales figure of $200.

Hip Hop/Rap Popularity by Country

As shown in the image, Canada had more rap genre purchases with Five purchases. Although there isn't significant difference between the countries.

Rock, Metal and Jazz sales over time

Rock sales consistently exceeded 150 purchases over the five-year period within the database, with a slight downward trend observed in 2010. However, sales began to rise again as we moved towards 2013. Metal, on the other hand, experienced approximately 60 purchases in 2009, temporarily declined to around 40 units in 2011, but rebounded to approximately 60 units in sales in 2012. Meanwhile, Jazz maintained a relatively steady performance throughout the years, with a minor dip noted in 2012.